POSITION AT OTTAWA.

NOTHING FURTHER DONE IN CABINET-MAKING.

Dissensions in the Government Camp—Will Thompson be Leader in the Commons? Langevin Says it Has not Been Settled—Chapleau Will Accede to Nothing.

[Special to the TIMES.]

OTTAWA, June 15.—Beyond the appointment of a leader in the person of Mr. Abbott, nothing else has been arrived at in connection with the formation of the cabinet. Thompson and Langevin promised their support to Abbott, but on what conditions is not known. It is generally believed that Thompson will be leader in the Commons, but Langevin said to-day that this was not the case. When asked who would lead, the Minister of Public Works replied that so far the matter had not yet been definitely decided on. Langevin insists that he be retained in the position which he has filled for so many years in the absence of Sir John. To throw him overboard now would mean that he was guilty of the charge preferred against him. On the other hand Chapleau will accede to nothing or accept no portfolio until the question of leadership of the Commons is settled. He insists that Thompson be appointed leader, and in event of this not being the case, the party may look out for squalls. No one here, however, has any stock in Chapleau's kicking. He was invited to meet Abbott on Saturday afternoon, but left for Montreal instead, to interview his friends. Having sustained an injury to one of his ankles through slipping on a defective sidewalk, he was unable to meet many of his friends. He returned here last night. An effort will be made to get a stronger man in the cabinet from Western Ontario in place of Carling, but the question is, where is he to be found; Patterson has been here for the past week pressing his claims, but he has got no constituency and cannot find one. The more the selection of Abbot as leader is discussed the more certain does it become that the Conservative party can't hold together. It is a public proclamation of their own inherent weakness. The Government organ here to-day has not one word to say about the appointment.

The departure of Mr. E. Crow Baker, ex-M.P., for England, will deprive the committee on Privileges and Elections of information in respect to the postponed enlargement of the Esquimalt dock, which was expected to have an important bearing on the alleged bribery of the Victoria representatives. Mr. Shakespeare will be subpœnaed to attend, and if the papers are not already sent out, they will be forwarded this week. The present representatives from Victoria think that Mr. Shakespeare would be a valuable witness, as he knows more than he has ever been given credit for knowing. They think he will not be unwilling to come, as he will be anxious to clear himself of the charge made by Mr. Connolly.

A Clergyman Resigns.

BALTIMORE, June 15.—The Rev. Dr. E. M. Smith, of the Hartford Reformed Presbyterian church, yesterday preached his farewell sermon and announced to the congregation that he could no longer consistently be a minister of a church in this free country that forbid its ministers exercising the right of franchise. Dr. Smith said the church authorities had not persecuted him in the least. For some time past he had differed with the radical element of the covenanters, but had hoped that the recent trial at Pittsburg of the young ministers would result differently. In expelling the young men, however, for no other reason than that they had exercised their rights and their duties as American citizens, was more than he could stand. Dr. Smith says he will seek admission to the regular Presbyterian church, and it is likely that many of his congregation will follow him.

The Air Ship.

NEW YORK, June 15.—A Burlington, Ia., special to the Herald says: The Burlington Air Ship Company, with a capital of $10,000,000, with $1,000,000 paid up, was organized and the papers of incorporation taken out in this city on Saturday. This organization is the outcome of a ten days' conference between J. Pennington, the inventor of Pennington's air-ship, and a number of Burlington capitalists. The proposition of the incorporators is to at once remove the business and construction plant from Mount Carmel and St. Louis to Burlington. The ship will carry four passengers and attempt to fly from Burlington to New York. The incorporators are all reliable Burlington capitalists, who seem to mean business. It is expected the initial flight will take place on July 4th.

Uncle Sam's Coal Supply.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—While the surrender of the Itata may be very satisfactory to the judicial authorities, the prospect of a deficiency in the naval coal fund, by reason of her pursuit and return to San Diego, is not relished by the navy department officials. The bureau of equipment has been figuring very close to prevent a deficiency this year, and Captain Dewey was congratulating himself that he had succeeded, but if it turns out that this bureau has to pay for the coal necessary to bring the Itata north, the chances are that the fund will run short by $5000 to $6000.

A North Carolina Colony.

ASHVILLE, N. C., June 15.—The colonization scheme inaugurated by the agents of Baron Hirsch is assuming proportions much larger that at first thought. Rabbi Wessler, one of the representatives, is negotiating for 8000 acres of land near Lenoir, 4000 near Greensboro and 1200 near Littleton in this State. Fifty thousand expelled Russian Jews, it is said, will be brought to this State very soon. The agents are negotiating for the purchase of the Hickory Inn, at Hickory, N.C., which town is to be made a sort of trading headquarters for the colony near Lenoir. Forty thousand dollars is the sum offered the proprietor of the Inn for his property. The immigrants are expected to arrive in the fall.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.

Fifty-Seven Bodies Taken Out—Still More in the Debris.

BASLE, June 15.—At 10 a.m. 57 bodies were recovered from the wreck of the train which yesterday plunged through the bridge of the Moenchenstein and Basle Railway. Forty persons were severely wounded and many bruised. It is feared that many dead remain tangled in the submerged debris. Gangs are working to recover the bodies of those victims and clear away the wreck. Most of the victims were leading citizens of Basle. There is hardly a street but the houses bear mourning. The railway stations and hospitals are crowded with weeping women. There is uncertainty as to how many bodies are beneath the wreck. The whole iron work of the bridge seems to have snapped like a pipe-stem. The masonry remains absolutely intact.

Sale of the Anaconda.

BUTTE, Mont., June 15.—The shutting down, about two months ago, of the Anaconda mine was an event that affected business interests in this section, and excited the attention of the business centres of the west. I have information which is reliable, lacking only official confirmation, that the Anaconda mine has been sold to a foreign syndicate, and that Mr. Belmont, acting as the agent for Rothschilds, has been instructed to close the deal. The information comes through the same source that the new company organized to operate the Anaconda will be fully equipped and rezdy for work by Sept. 1st. The exact figures paid have not been quoted, but enough is known to say that they range between $20,000,000 and $25,000,000.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 15.—Irwin C. Stump, manager for J. B. Haggin, one of the owners of the Anaconda mines, said to-day that there was no truth in the report that the mines had been sold to an English syndicate.

SPORTING INTELLIGENCE

Matters of Interest Going Forward in the Sporting World, Here and Elsewhere.

CRICKET

The one hundred and fourth annual meeting of the Marylebone Club was held May 6, at Lord's Ground, London, Eng. The report shows that in 1890, 3239 members paid, as against 3185 in 1889; abroad, 209; life members, 218, total 3666. During the past year 276 members have died, and 10 have retired. 160 matches were played last year, of which 84 were won, 40 lost and 36 drawn. The total cost of the new pavilion, including furniture and extras, amounts to £21,000; of this sum, £11,000 has been paid out of two years' income, and the only liability of the club at the present time is £10,000, owing to M. Nicholson. A well deserved compliment was paid to the famous cricketer, V. E. Walker, who was chosen president for the present year. He was born April 20, 1837, at Southgate, Middlesex, and he represented England when he was only twenty-one years, taking all ten wickets with his slow, underhand bowling in the first inning. In 1859 he scored 20 not out, and 108 for England against Surrey. V. E. Walker is the only player, amateur or professional, who has accomplished three times the remarkable bowling feat of taking all ten wickets in an inning of a first class match.

The first great match of the season at Lord's Ground, London, Eng., was played May 11, 12 and 13 for the benefit of Rylott. The contestants were picked elevens of the South and North. Thanks to some excellent bowling on a worn wicket, the South succeeded in winning by 31 runs.

Remarkable scoring was recorded in a game recently played at Taunton, Eng., between the Somerset and Glastonbury Clubs. The Glastonbury men went first to the bat, and were disposed of in an hour for 86 runs. The Somersets got 656 runs for nine wickets. Nichols, the Somerset professional, carried out his bat for 311. Going in with the first wicket down he remained till the call of "Time" at 6 o'clock. His hits included thirty-nine fours, ten threes and twenty-one twos. He also distinguished himself by taking five wickets for 17 runs.

BASEBALL.

Police Justice Davis, of the Second District Police Court of Jersey City, in disposing of a case recently, of a boy who was arrested for playing ball on Sunday in that city, said: "I don't see any harm in playing ball on Sunday, if the boys don't annoy the neighbors. They are better employed at that than drinking whisky on Sunday. You are discharged."

THE CASE IN THE HOUSE.

THE STRANGERS' GALLERY WELL FILLED THIS MORNING.

A Liberal's Opinion of What the People Expect from the Prince of Wales in the Future—The Chief Justice Falls in for a Little Abuse.

LONDON, June 15.—The eagerness for admission to the House of Commons to-day is in marked contrast to the emptiness of the strangers' gallery during the recent debate on the Irish land bill. Everybody is looking forward to some interesting questions and answers relating to the Prince of Wales and the Tranqycroft crowd. From talk this morning it is believed a good number of Liberals will go with their Radical associates in any reasonable rebuke of the action of the Prince. It is certain, too, that a large portion of Parliament will not be satisfied with an apology that does not go further than a mere excuse for leniency toward Sir Wm. Gordon-Cumming. That's the popular sentiment, and its representatives in Parliament demand an apology for the gambling, irrespective of the alleged cheating, and anything short of that will fan the flame of popular excitement. A prominent Liberal said to-day that a plain and frank declaration in behalf of the Prince, that hereafter he would give no cause for criticism would allay the tempest. The people, he said, wanted an end to regal gambling, and some decent assurance of good conduct in future.

THE CHIEF JUSTICE SCORED.

The statement that Chief Justice Coleridge may call Sir William to account for accusing him of partiality in his charge, has turned society to talking about the Chief Justice and about the brutal way in which, some years ago, he endeavored by his official influence and power, to crush a young man named Adams, whom a daughter of Coleridge had chosen for a husband against her father's will. Lord Coleridge in that case found that his high station did not assure him the ability to tread on a poor man, and he was ingloriously defeated, the whole meanness of his course being exposed in the public press. Since that time Coleridge has made the best of the situation, and has not tried to hurt Adams. Should he interfere with Gordon-Cumming it is believed he would repeat the Adams experience by exciting sympathy for the intended victim.

AN ENGLISH VIEW OF OUR AFFAIRS.

The selection of J. C. Abbott to succeed Sir John Macdonald is generally accepted here as the wisest selection that could have been made. The strength of the British connection is believed to lie in Ontario and the west, and the Maritime Provinces, in which Abbott is popular and it is said by leading Canadians residing in London that the Government acted wisely in preferring the wishes of the British colonists to the desires of the French Canadians. Since the visit of Premier Mercier to Paris, and his speeches there, averring the undimmed devotion of new to old France, the British mind has got been so well satisfied of the attachment of Quebec to the Empire, and there is less disposition than in former years to see everything in Canada subordinated to the whims of the French settlers. It is known that numerous telegrams passed between Ottawa and London before Abbott was named, and there is no doubt that he is the choice on this side of the Atlantic as well as on the other. The appointment is also considered thoroughly safe from a business point of view, which in the present financial condition of the Dominion is important.

HORRIBLE CANNIBALISM.

A letter from Calabar, on the West Coast of Africa, gives an account of a horrible case of cannibalism in the district of Bay Ong, a short distance in the interior. It appears that the inhabitants of the village of Aro in that region, having been reduced to utter destitution by the raids of a neighboring tribe, compelled every family among them each to give up one child to be killed for food. This horrible business had been going on for two weeks before the news reached Calabar. The traders there at once sent assistance free of any cost to the unfortunate town, many of whose inhabitants were found to have perished of hunger. Those who were able to be removed have been taken to friendly villages near the coast, secure from their former enemies.

BISMARCK UNWELL.

Prince and Princess Bismarck will go to Kissingen in a day or two to spend about a month. Both are far from well, but it is hoped they will recover under the influence of the springs and baths.

MUST NOT TALK.

The Kaiser has caused it to be made known informally in the German army that any discussion of the Prince of Wales affair will be treated as a grave indiscretion, if by officers, and as a case for severe punishment among those of lower rank.

ANOTHER SCANDAL.

It is rumored that a divorce suit, instituted by Lord Brooke, is imminent, and that the Prince of Wales will be named as the co-respondent. Society is all worked up over the matter, and it may be that a revelation will be made rivalling the sensations of the Mordaunt suit. Certainly gossips intimate, that the Prince in some way, communicated the charges against Sir William Gordon-Cumming, to Lady Brooke's, and that she in turn, in probably a supposed confidential conversation, let the story escape, hence all the recent hubbub.

WILL TAKE OFFICIAL NOTICE.

It is currently reported that Lord Coleridge, who presided at the recent trial, will take official notice of the charge made against him by Sir William, the substance of which is that the verdict of the jury would have been entirely different had it not been for the partiality for the defendants which the Lord Chief Justice showed in his summing up and charge to the jury.

NANAIMO NEWS NOTES.

Decorating the Graves of Their Departed Brethren—Left Behind.

NANAIMO, June 15.—The Knights of Pythias turned out in large numbers yesterday to attend the ceremony of decorating the graves of their departed brethren. The procession was headed by the Knights of Pythias brass band, following in order were the uniform rank of the Knights in full dress, which gave to the procession an imposing appearance. A large contingent of the Knights came from Northfield, headed by the Northfield brass band. The latter is much improved since it last visited the city. The funeral of John McFarlane took place at the same time, the body being in charge of the order, of which deceased was a member. The funeral service and dedication sermon was preached by the Rev. McRae.

LEFT BEHIND.

Early this morning one of the local milk vendors was in the act of taking a can of milk from his wagon when the horse suddenly decided to go home. It lost no time in getting through the streets and the persons who attempted to stop the animal found he was too subtle, for he careered around them and got clear. No doubt he made his way home all right as he was seen going along the Victoria road on the way to Cedar District, a distance of seven miles. The man who was left behind had to walk it, offering up prayers by the way for the horse.

JUMPING MATCH.

The high jump contest between Wallis, of Englishman's River, and Angus Bell, of Cowichan, for $100 aside took place on the "green," on Saturday, before a large crowd of spectators. The betting was in favor of Willis. Bell was unfortunate in breaking one of his slippers at the start, so he was compelled to jump in his stocking feet. The match was won by Wallis jumping 5 feet ¼ inch. Bell immediately challenged Wallis again and was accepted. The event will probably come off on the Orangemen's day.

CORONER'S INQUEST.

Dr. Walkem, coroner, held an inquest on the body of John McFarland, on Saturday, in the Odd Fellows' Hall. The witness called was the deceased's partner, and by his evidence it was shown that the mule which the deceased was driving became unmanageable and ran away; McFarland lowered his head in the box to hide the light when the box came in contact with a prop knocking it down and bringing considerable quantity of rock with it, which fell on the head of the deceased and smashed his skull. The jury after a short deliberation returned a verdict of accidental death.

The Nanaimo Silver Cornet Band gave their first concert in the new band house on Saturday evening.

COLUMBUS RELICS.

Proposed Reproduction of the Convent La Rabida at the Exposition.

The World's Fair Directory is recommended by its foreign affairs committee to appropriate $50,000 for the purpose of building at Jackson Park a fac simile of the ancient convent of La Rabida, of Palos, Spain. It is believed that this would be the most appropriate structure possible in which to exhibit the large number of relics of Columbus which is being collected. If the project is carried out, as it seems probable it will be, this building and its contents will doubtless be one of the Exhibition attractions which no visiter will be content to leave without seeing.

It was at the door of the convent of La Rabida that Columbus, disappointed and down-hearted, asked for food and shelter for himself and his child. It was here that he found an asylum for a few years while he developed his plans and prepared the arguments which he submitted to the council at Salamanca. It was in one of the rooms of this convent that he met the Dominical monks in debate, and it was here also that he conferred with Alonzo Pinzo who afterwards commanded one of the vessels of his fleet. In this convent Columbus lived while he was making preparations for his voyage, and on the morning that he sailed from Palos he attended himself the little chapel. There is no building in the world so closely identified with his discovery as this, and fortunately its architecture is of such a character as to permit a reproduction at a comparatively small cost, and at the same time furnish a picturesque view and appropriate group among the splendid buildings that will be erected at Jackson Park. It will not only be of itself a monument to Columbus, but it will furnish commodious and convenient show rooms for the collections and relics of Columbus that are to be exhibited. Besides a large collection of maps, manuscripts, books and pictures that are being secured there will be among them public and private collections both from Europe and the United States. Many of the articles being of great value, it is proposed to bring them all together in this building, where they will be secure from fire and all other dangers.

CAST THEM ON THE LORD.

CHRIST WILL HELP YOU BEAR YOUR HEAVY BURDENS.

Dr. Talmage Preaches an Eloquent Sermon That Appeals to the Business Man, the Invalid, the Mourner and to All Humanity.

BROOKLYN, June 7.—It is no new thing to the members of the Brooklyn Tabernacle church to have their pastor's eminence acknowledged by the outside world. But even they must have been gratified by the distinction conferred upon him since last Sunday. In listening to Dr. Talmage today, they were listening to the chaplain of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Massachusetts, in which office he was formally installed with due ceremony on June 1. The organization, which is two hundred and fifty years old, and the lineal descendant of an English organization dating back to the beginning of the Sixteenth century, has had many distinguished divines as chaplains, and the honor has always been highly appreciated. The subject of Dr. Talmage's sermon this morning was "The Burden Bearer," and his text Psalm lv, 22—"Cast thy burden upon the Lord, and he shall sustain thee."

THE SERMON.

David was here taking his own medicine. Anybody had on him heavy weights, David had them, and yet out of his own experience he advises you and me as to the best way of getting rid of burdens. This is a world of burden bearing. Coming into the house of prayer there may be no sign of sadness or sorrow, but where is the man who has not a conflict? Where is the soul that has not a struggle? And there is not a day of all the year when my text is not gloriously appropriate, and there is never an audience assembled on the planet where the text does not fit the occasion: "Cast thy burden upon the Lord, and he shall sustain thee." In the far east wells of water are so infrequent that when a man owns a well he has a property of very great value, and sometimes battles have been fought for the possession of one well of water; but there is one well that every man owns—a deep well, a perennial well, a well of tears. If a man has not a burden on the shoulder, he has a burden on the other shoulder.

The day I left home to look after myself and for mysel, in the wagon my father sat driving, and he said that day something which has kept with me all my life: "De Witt, it is always safe to trust God. I have many a time come to a crisis of difficulty. You may know that, having been sick for fifteen years, it was no easy thing for me to support a family; but always God came to the rescue. I remember the time," he said, "when I didn't know what to do, and I saw a man on horseback riding up the farm lane, and he announced to me that I had been nominated for the most lucrative office in the gift of the people of the county, and to that office I was elected, and God in that way met all my wants, and I tell you it is always safe to trust him."

Oh, my friends, what we want is a practical religion! The religion people have is so high up you cannot reach it. I had a friend who entered the life of an evangelist. He gave up a lucrative business in Chicago, and he and his wife finally came to severe want. He told me that in the morning at prayers he said: "O Lord, thou knowest we have not a mouthful of food in the house! Help me; help us!" And he started out on the street, and a gentleman met him and said: "I have been thinking of you for a good while. You know I am a flour merchant; if you won't be offended, I should like to send you a barrel of flour."

My friend cast his burden on the Lord, and the Lord sustained him. In the Straits of Magellan, I have been told, there is a place where whichever way a captain puts his ship he finds the wind against him, and there are men who all their lives have been running in the teeth of the wind, and which way to turn they do not know. Some of them may be here this morning, and I address them face to face, not perfunctorily, but as one brother talks to another brother, "Cast thy burden upon the Lord, and he shall sustain thee."

THE BUSINESS MAN'S BURDEN.

First—There are a great many men who have business burdens. When we see a man harried and perplexed and annoyed in business life we are apt to say, "He ought not to have attempted to carry so much." Ah, that man may not be to blame at all! When a man plants a business he does not know what will be its outgrowths, what will be its roots, what will be its branches. There is many a man with keen foresight and large business faculty who has been flung into the dust by unforeseen circumstances springing upon him from ambush. When to buy, when to sell, when to trust and to what amount of credit, what will be the effect of this new invention of machinery, what will be the effect of that loss of crop and a thousand other questions perplex business men until the hair is silvered and deep wrinkles are plowed in the cheek, and the stocks go up by the mountains and go down by the valleys, and they are at their wits' ends and stagger like drunken men.

There never has been a time when there have been such rivalries in business as now. It is hardware against hardware, books against books, chandlery against chandlery, imported article against imported article. A thousand stores in combat with another thousand stores. Never such advantage of light, never such variety of assortment, never so much splendor of show window, never so much adroitness of salesmen, never so much acuteness of advertising, and amid all the severities of rivalry in business how many men break down! Oh, the burden on the shoulder! Oh, the burden on the heart! You hear that it is avarice which drives these men of business through the street, and that is the commonly accepted idea. I do not believe a word of it.

The vast multitude of these business men are toiling on for others. To educate their children, to put the wing of protection over their households, to have something left so when they pass out of this life their wives and children will not have to go to the poorhouse—that is the way I translate this energy in the street and store—the vast majority of that energy. Grip, Gouge & Co. do not do all the business. Some of us remember when the Central America was coming home from California, it was wrecked. President Arthur's father-in-law was the heroic captain of that ship, and went down with most of the passengers.

Some of them got off into lifeboats, but there was a young man returning from California who had a bag of gold in his hand; and as the last boat shoved off from the ship that was to go down that man shouted to a comrade in the boat, "Here, John, catch this gold; there are $3,000; take it home to my old mother; it will make her comfortable in her last days." Grip, Gouge & Co. do not do all the business of the world. Ah! my friend, do you say that God does not care anything about your worldly business? I tell you God knows more about it than you do. He knows all your perplexities; he knows what mortgagee is about to foreclose; he knows what note you cannot pay; he knows what unsalable goods you have on your shelves; he knows all your trials, from the day you took hold of the first yardstick down to the sale of the last yard of ribbon, and the God who helped David to be king, and who helped Daniel to be prime minister, and who helped Havelock to be a soldier, will help you to discharge all your duties. He is going to see you through. When loss comes, and you find your property going, just take this Book and put it down by your ledger, and read of the eternal possessions that will come to you through our Lord Jesus Christ. And when your business partner betrays you, and your friends turn against you, just take the insulting letter, put it down on the table, put your Bible beside the insulting letter, and then read of the friendship of him who "sticketh closer than a brother."

THE LORD SUSTAINED HIM.

A young accountant in New York city got his accounts entangled. He knew he was honest, and yet he could not make his accounts come out right, and he toiled at them day and night until he was nearly frenzied. It seemed by those books that something had been misappropriated, and he knew before God he was honest. The last day came. He knew if he could not that day make his accounts come out right he would go into disgrace and go into banishment from the business establishment. He went over there very early, before there was anybody in the place, and he knelt down at the desk and said: "Oh, Lord, thou knowest I have tried to be honest, but I cannot make these things come out right. Help me today—help me this morning!"

The young man arose and hardly knowing why he did so opened a book that lay on the desk, and there was a leaf containing a line of figures which explained everything. In other words, he cast his burden upon the Lord and the Lord sustained him. Young man, do you hear that? Oh, yes; God has a sympathy with anybody that is in any kind of toil! He knows how heavy is the hod of bricks that the workman carries up the ladder of the wall; he hears the pickax of the miner down in the coal shaft; he knows how strong the tempest strikes the sailor at masthead; he sees the factory girl among the spindles and knows how her arms ache; he sees the sewing woman in the fourth story and knows how few pence she gets for making a garment; and louder than all the din and roar of the city comes the voice of a sympathetic God, "Cast thy burden upon the Lord, and he shall sustain thee."

Second—There are a great many who have a weight of persecution and abuse upon them. Sometimes society gets a grudge against a man. All his motives are misinterpreted, and his good deeds are depreciated. With more virtue than some of the honored and applauded, he runs only against raillery and sharp criticism. When a man begins to go down he has not only the force of natural gravitation, but a hundred hands to help him in the precipitation. Men are persecuted for their virtues and their successes. Germanicus said he had just as many bitter antagonists as he had adornments. The character sometimes is so lustrous that the weak eyes of envy and jealousy cannot bear to look at it. It was their integrity that put Joseph in the pit, and Daniel in the den, and Shadrach in the fire, and sent John the Evangelist to desolate Patmos, and Calvin to the castle of persecution, and John Huss to the stake, and Korah after Moses, and Saul after David, and Herod after Christ. Be sure if you have anything to do for church or state, and you attempt it with all your soul, the lightning will strike you.

INTEGRITY ALWAYS BRINGS ABUSE.

The world always has had a cross between two thieves for the one who comes to save it. High and holy enterprise has always been followed by abuse. The most sublime tragedy of self sacrifice has come to burlesque. The graceful gait of virtue is always followed by grimace and travesty. The sweetest strain of poetry ever written has come to ridiculous parody, and as long as there are virtue and righteousness in the world, there will be something for iniquity to grin at. All along the line of the ages, and in all lands, the cry has been: "Not this man, but Barabbas. Now, Barabbas was a robber."

And what makes the persecutions of life worse is that they come from people whom you have helped, from those to whom you have loaned money or have started in business, or whom you rescued in some great crisis. I think it has been the history of all our lives—the most acrimonious assault has come from those whom we have benefited, whom we have helped, and that makes it all the harder to bear. A man is in danger of becoming cynical.

A clergyman of the Universalist church went into a neighborhood for the establishment of a church of his denomination, and he was anxious to find some one of that denomination, and he was pointed to a certain house and went there. He said to the man of the house, "I understand you are a Universalist; I want you to help me in the enterprise." "Well," said the man, "I am a Universalist, but I have a peculiar kind of Universalism." "What is that?" asked the minister. "Well," replied the other, "I have been out in the world, and I have been cheated and slandered and outraged and abused until I believe in universal damnation!"

The great danger is that men will become cynical and given to believe, as David was tempted to say, that all men are liars. Oh, my friends, do not let that be the effect upon your souls! If you cannot endure a little persecution how do you think our fathers endured great persecution? Motley, in his "Dutch Republic," tells us of Egmont the martyr, who, condemned to be beheaded, unfastened his collar on the way to the scaffold; and when they asked him why he did that he said, "So they will not be detained in their work; I want to be ready." Oh, how little we have to endure compared with those who have gone before us!

BUDGE NOT ONE INCH.

Now, if you have come across ill treatment, let me tell you you are in excellent company—Christ and Luther and Galileo and Columbus and John Jay and Josiah Quincy and thousands of men and women, the best spirits of earth and heaven. Budge not one inch, though all hell wreak upon you its vengeance, and you be made a target for devils to shoot at. Do you not think Christ knows all about persecution? Was he not hissed at? Was he not struck on the cheek? Was he not pursued all the days of his life? Did they not expectorate upon him? Or, to put it in Bible language, "They spit upon him." And cannot he understand what persecution is? "Cast thy burden upon the Lord, and he shall sustain thee."

Third—There are others who carry great burdens of physical ailments. When sudden sickness has come, and fierce cholera and malignant fevers take the castles of life by storm, we appeal to God; but in these chronic ailments which wear out the strength day after day, and week after week, and year after year, how little resorting to God for solace! Then people depend upon their tonics and their plasters and their cordials rather than upon heavenly stimulants. Oh, how few people there are completely well! Some of you, by dint of perseverance and care, have kept living to this time; but how you have had to war against physical ailments! Antediluvians, without medical college and infirmary and apothecary shop, multiplied their years by hundreds; but he who has gone through the gantlet of disease in our time, and has come to seventy years of age, is a hero worthy of a palm.

CAST THEM ON THE LORD.

THE BURDEN OF ILLNESS.

The world seems to be a great hospital, and you run against rheumatisms and consumptions and scrofulas and neuralgias and scores of old diseases baptized by new nomenclature. Oh, how heavy a burden sickness is! It takes the color out of the sky, and the sparkle out of the wave, and the sweetness out of the fruit and the luster out of the night. When the limb aches, when the respiration is painful, when the mouth is hot, when the ear roars with unhealthy obstructions, how hard it is to be patient and cheerful and assiduous! "Cast thy burden upon the Lord." Does your head ache? His wore the thorn. Do your feet hurt? His were crushed of the spikes. Is your side painful? His was struck by the spear. Do you feel like giving way under the burden? His weakness gave way under a cross.

While you are in every possible way to try to restore your physical vigor, you are to remember that more soothing than any anodyne, and more vitalizing than any stimulant, and more strengthening than any tonic is the prescription of the text: "Cast thy burden upon the Lord, and he shall sustain thee." We hear a great deal of talk now about faith cure, and some people say it cannot be done and it is a failure. I do not know but that the chief advance of the church is to be in that direction. Marvelous things come to me day by day which make me think that if the age of miracles is past it is because the faith of miracles is past.

A prominent merchant of New York said to a member of my family, "My mother wants her case mentioned to Mr. Talmage." This was the case. He said: "My mother had a dreadful abscess, from which she had suffered untold agonies, and all surgery had been exhausted upon her, and worse and worse she grew until we called in a few Christian friends and proceeded to pray about it. We commended her case to God, and the abscess began immediately to be cured. She is entirely well now, and without knife and without any surgery." So that case has come to me, and there are a score of other cases coming to our ears from all parts of the earth. Oh, ye who are sick, go to Christ! Oh, ye who are worn out with agonies of body, "Cast thy burden upon the Lord, and he shall sustain thee!"

THE BURDEN OF BEREAVEMENT.

Another burden some have to carry is the burden of bereavement. Ah! these are the troubles that wear us out. If we lose our property, by additional industry perhaps we may bring back the estranged fortune; if we lose our good name, perhaps by reformation of morals we may achieve again reputation for integrity; but who will bring back the dear departed? Alas me! for these empty cradles and these trunks of childish toys that will never be used again. Alas me! for the empty chair and the silence in the halls that will never echo again to those familiar footsteps. Alas! for the cry of widowhood and orphanage.

What bitter Marahs in the wilderness, what cities of the dead, what long black shadow from the wing of death, what eyes sunken with grief, what hands tremulous with bereavement, what instruments of music shut now because there are no fingers to play on them! Is there no relief for such souls? Aye, let the soul ride into the harbor of my text.

The soul that on Jesus hath leaned for repose,
I will not, I will not desert to its foes;
That soul, though all hell shall endeavor to shake,
I'll never, no never, no never forsake.

Now, the grave is brighter than the ancient tomb where the lights were perpetually kept burning. The scarred feet of him who was "the resurrection and the life" are on the broken grave hillock, while the voices of angels ring down the sky at the coronation of another soul come home to glory.

THE ONLY CURE FOR SIN.

Then there are many who carry the burden of sin. Ah, we all carry it until in the appointed way that burden is lifted. We need no Bible to prove that the whole race is ruined. What a spectacle it would be if we could tear off the mask of human defilement, or beat a drum that would bring up the whole army of the world's transgressions—the deception, the fraud, and the rapine, and the murder, and the crime of all the centuries! Aye, if I could sound the trumpet of resurrection in the soul of the best men in this audience, and all the dead sins of the past should come up, we could not endure the sight. Sin, grim and dire, has put its clutch upon the immortal soul, and that clutch will never relax unless it be under the heel of him who came to destroy the works of the devil.

Oh, to have a mountain of sin on the soul! Is there no way to have the burden moved? Oh, yes. "Cast thy burden upon the Lord." The sinless one came to take the consequences of our sin! And I know he is in earnest. How do I know it? By the streaming temples and the streaming hands as he says, "Come unto me all ye who are weary and heavy laden, and I will give you rest." Why will prodigals live on swines' husks when the robe, and the ring, and the father's welcome are ready? Why go wandering over the great Sahara desert of your sin when you are invited to the gardens of God, the trees of life and the fountains of living water? Why be houseless and homeless forever when you may become the sons and daughters of the Lord God Almighty?

THE CRY OF MILLIONS
OH, MY BACK!
STOP IT NOW.
SOON IT WILL BE TOO LATE.
I have been troubled many years with disease of the kidneys and have tried many different remedies and have sought aid from different physicians without relief. About the 15th of April I was suffering from a very violent attack that almost prostrated me in such a manner that I was best over. When I sat down it was almost impossible for me to get up alone, or to put on my clothes, when that Providence sent Dr. Henley, with the OREGON KIDNEY TEA, to my hotel. I immediately commenced using the tea. It had an almost miraculous effect, and to the astonishment of all the guests at the hotel, in a few days, I am happy to state, that I was a new man. I will recommend the tea to all afflicted as I have been.

WHITE ROCK, B. C.

This Townsite is situated on Semiahmoo Bay and is the only deep water seaport between the International Bounday Line and Vancouver, B.C. It will probably be the Mainland starting-point of the Victoria, Saanich & New Westminster Railway. It is now the outlet for the finest agricultural district in British Columbia.

The C.P.R. has made a survey of a line from Vancouver direct to this point. The Royal City Planing Mills Company has built a substantial wharf here, and has established a lumber yard, which supplies the farmers of this district. A handsome Hotel has been erected and building is going on rapidly. Several influential and far-sighted corporations have acquired large tracts of land surrounding this Townsite.

What Does It Mean?

"100 Doses One Dollar" means simply that Hood's Sarsaparilla is the most economical medicine to buy, because it gives more for the money than any other preparation. Each bottle contains 100 doses and will average to last a month, while other preparations, taken according to directions, are gone in a week. Therefore, be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla, the best blood purifier.

CLOTHIERS

SUITS TO ORDER

CHEAPER THAN EVER.

Since the formation of a union amongst the tailors in Victoria prices for clothing have advanced to such an extent that people are sending East for their suits. And we don't blame them, either, if they can save from $10 to $20 a suit. We pay union prices simply because we have to; not that we consider it right.

We were paying our men the same wages before union prices were enforced that we paid them ten years ago, when we received from ten to twenty per cent. more for our suits.

We have from ten to fifteen thousand dollars invested in tailoring, and we propose to turn it over at least twice a year, regardless of profits. To do this we will make suits cheaper than we did before we paid high prices for making up. Good Tweed and Serge Suits, $25.

Irish Tweeds, $27, $28, $30 and $32. If any other tailor in town will prove that these goods are not genuine Irish Tweeds we will donate a Thousand Dollars to any charitable institution that he may name.

Black worsted suits $40. You will get the same goods for $48 or $50 elsewhere. We intend to make a specialty of tweed suits for $30; regular price is $35 to $40. We have the store for our other business; it costs us nothing for the tailoring department; we have the stock; we have a first-class cutter, and we have capital enough to run it if we don't make a cent. So now is the time to get cheap suits to order.

We are going through the stock marking everything down. Don't take everything for granted. See our new schedule of prices.

THE ROBSON ORGAN ON SCHOOL MATTERS.

There is really nothing in the Colonist's article on the appointment of school trustees to reply to, save the assertion that the TIMES has "vilified" Messrs. JESSOP, MCCONNAN and HEISTERMAN. That statement is false, with an accent on the last word. The TIMES pointed out that the two first-named gentlemen had been defeated by the popular vote only a few months ago, when they sought election as school trustees, and therefore, by appointing them to an office to which they could not be elected, the Government were defying the electors. The TIMES said nothing derogatory of Mr. HEISTERMAN, and did not call in question the personal characters of Messrs. JESSOP and MCCONNAN. It stated that the latter were partizans of the education office, and this the Colonist does not deny. They have been appointed to carry out the instructions of a malicious minister, who is bound to administer the schools of Victoria, even to the smallest detail of management, to suit his own unmanly ends. The Colonist knows this, too. The contention that, because the school act as amended is the law, there should be no criticism of it, or of the contemptible gang that administers it, is the veriest nonsense that was ever published. Were such a view to obtain, no bad law would ever be condemned.

ABBOTT'S POLICY.

It has been said that the Liberals are satisfied with the choice the Conservatives have made for first Minister of the Crown, thereby implying that he is not a strong man. It is more than likely, though, that the Conservatives have made the best possible choice under the circumstances. A strong man, in the sense that Sir JOHN was strong, is not wanted, nor has Canada any use for a political swashbuckler like Sir CHARLES TUPPER. Despite the strong and active leadership of Sir JOHN, National Policy based though it is on so-called patriotic motives and backed by the moral support of a British Tory Government, has lost ground. If under these circumstances National Policy is on the wane it is patent that Canada's new Premier should be a man with whom National Policy was somewhat less of a fad than was the case with Sir JOHN MACDONALD. Sir JOHN had a personal as well as a public interest in National Policy. The father of it, virtually, he took all the pride in its success than one naturally feels in his own offspring. Any modification of it was a reflection on his acumen, while its impracticability would relegate him to the category of British statesmen who have endeavored to subordinate natural laws to the exigencies of Toryism. But Mr. ABBOTT has no interest in National Policy in the sense that had Sir JOHN, and is the better qualified, therefore, to see it as do others. That he does so see it is evident from his remarks on the question of reciprocity. "We would like," said Mr. ABBOTT recently, to "make an arrangement with the United States for the free importation of goods and products of all kinds that would not interfere with our native industries, commercial and agricultural; and we would like to secure the free importation into the United State of all products of our country which we can induce them to receive, and which it would be for our advantage to export. That is the principle on which the party have declared their intention of negotiating; that is to say for extended relations in reciprocity of trade in all these goods, articles and products that can be reciprocally exchanged without injury to our own country." This is good Liberal doctrine, and if lived up to must meet the approval of the Liberals.

It is not so much the flesh-pots that the Liberals want as a clean administration of internal affairs and an intelligent and comprehensive trade policy. If ABBOTT gives Canada that he will prove a strong instead of a weak man. It will be urged that the policy enunciated by Mr. ABBOTT was Sir JOHN'S policy. It was Sir JOHN'S policy on the stump, but when it came to acts he never forgot the Red Parlor. Sir JOHN never really wanted reciprocity unless he could have it practically on his own terms, and we all know what those terms were. As Americans no Canadian would accept reciprocity in natural products alone.

SLIGHTLY IN ERROR.

The steamer Zambesi landed at Victoria something over 105 tons of freight, consisting of rice and wine, consigned to merchants in Port Townsend and San Francisco. The Port Townsend Leader, alluding to the transaction editorially, would make it appear that "it needs no supernatural power to look forward to the time when the great bulk of trade between the United States, China and Japan will pass over Port Townsend wharves." The Leader seems to be drawing a pretty long bow. It is not likely that San Francisco shippers by the Canadian Pacific route will stand the expense of having their freight handled four times en route from Japan to its destination. The Zambesi discharges San Francisco freight at Victoria. This is in turn picked up by a Sound steamer which discharges at Port Townsend. The consignment is then packed into the hold of another steamer bound for San Francisco. This makes four handlings more than would be necessary if San Francisco freight from Japan was shipped direct from Victoria instead of being trans-shipped to Port Townsend before being forwarded to that city. Is it to be supposed that San Francisco consignees will long stand the extra expense of this awkward arrangement? No! San Francisco importers of China-Japanese goods by the Canadian line will ship direct from Victoria. This is reasonable, natural, and the cheapest. Freight cannot be handled four times over for nothing. It must be inferred, therefore, that Victoria instead of Port Townsend will be the grand distributing point for shipments of merchandise arriving by the Canadian line of steamers and consigned to Pacific Coast merchants. These are the facts of the case as they will be when San Francisco merchants, shipping by Canadian steamers, have acquainted themselves with the situation; and when Victoria shall have so far woke up as to build the Saanich railway, she will do more distributing still, for then she will be in direct rail connection with the East by two, and possibly three, trans-continental lines of railway.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Sir CHARLES TUPPER is still at Vienna, representing the Dominion at the International Postal Congress. Canada joined the Postal Union twelve years ago, though at the Lisbon Congress of 1885 she was represented not by her own delegate but by the delegates of the British Post Office.

If Senator ABBOTT should fail in carrying on the Government until the end of the present session, is there a single individual in the City of Vancouver, who believes that the three newspapers there would remain Conservative. One of the curiosities of a change of Government would be the ease with which some British Columbia newspapers could "shed" their political "coats." The Colonist, it is almost needless to say, is Tory on principle.

The machine across James Bay is running itself just now. Messrs. DAVIE and ROBSON are both in Ottawa on private business, the first looking after his clients' affairs, and the latter his own. The excuse that Mr. ROBSON is wanted in Ottawa on public business, especially at the present juncture, is only advanced by the Colonist, and hence is all moonshine. Mr. ROBSON has an axe to grind, and his friends may well hope that he may succeed in getting it ground before the present Dominion Government totters to pieces.

The Colonist cannot afford to boom a scheme for a day or two and ignore it ever after. Its readers—if it persisted in so doing—would be very apt to say that it was unstable, and hence unreliable. For that reason, it is more than likely that the Colonist will again return to the agitation, started by itself, for a suspension of the National Policy for a day or two while a large cattle company was bringing in ten thousand sheep from the American side. It would be an excellent thing for the Province were the organ of rings and combines to persist in the advocacy of the cause of the B. C. Cattle Co., for then the glaring impropriety of the proceeding, and the stupid inconsistency of the protectionists, would have practical illustration. But it would seem as though the unfaithful shepherd had forgotton his ten thousand sheep. Has the bell wether led the flock astray, or are the laws on the tariff so unchangeable that the scheme has been quietly laid aside.

A CORRECTION.

TO THE EDITOR.—A paragraph in your Saturday's issue refers to a recent visit of mine to the West Kootenay district and alludes to me as manager of the Silver King mine. This must be so manifestly a mistake that it would hardly be necessary to ask for a correction were it not that the Colonist copies the error in its yesterday's issue. Yours truly, H. E. CROASDAILE.

Making Preparations for Grand Lodge—Civilized Indians.

From the Sentinel.

The Masons of Kamloops are making extensive preparations for the reception and accommodation of the officers and brethren of grand lodge and the fraternity generally, which meets there on the 18th inst.

Mr. F. Hussey, government agent will leave to-morrow night for Victoria, to undertake his new appointment as inspector of police. The greatest regret is felt at Mr. Hussey's departure, as during his long term of office here he has ever been deservedly popular. The only consolation the citizens have in losing him is that he is going on well deserved promotion, and that his place here is being filled by an old friend and competent officer in the person of Mr. Geo. Tunstall.

The Indians of the interior, to the number of 1300, assembled on Kamloops reservation for nearly two weeks, were dispersed on Tuesday last by Bishop Durien with a blessing. His Lordship expressed himself fully satisfied with the results of the gathering, and complimented the Indians on their prosperity, religious bearing and orderly conduct. Although so large a number were present, representing the different tribes of the interior, everything passed off most harmoniously. The services were witnessed by large numbers of townspeople, and were conducted through interpreters. If good horseflesh and decent civilized attire be any index to the progress and prosperity of the Indian, he is certainly making wonderful progress in this province.

From the Nelson Miner

About half a mile to the north of the Number One is the Delta, a claim said to be among the good undeveloped prospects of Hot Springs district. It is owned by William Alperson, of Spokane. Last Monday a man named Robert Jackson jumped it, claiming that the stakes which mark its center line are not of the size required by the mineral act; also that the last assessment work was not done on the ground. Jackson has named the location the Hidden Treasure.

Owing to the stage of water, a number of owners of claims on Hall Creek have had to quit work. John Lodge and his partner and the French boys are still at work and are reported doing well, theirs being bench claims. On 49 Creek the hydraulic company's ground, several of the boys are taking out good pay sluicing.

On Tuesday work was resumed on the Skyline, under the superintendence of Scott McDonald. Three shifts are employed, and a crosscut is being run from the bottom of the shaft to tap the ledge. This force will not only soon be increased, but men will be put to work on the Krao and other claims owned by the McCune company. It is reported that that company will have 150 men on its pay-roll within 60 days, and if the report is only backed up by the appearance of the 150 men, a showing will be made in Hot Springs district. Mr. McCune is expected in next week.

A sample taken from the croppings of the Sutter, a claim located on Give-out Creek three miles south of Nelson, gave an assay of $3 in gold and $18 in silver. Its owners believe they have a pretty good thing.

Braden & Stamford have just imported a fine lot of gas fixtures which every one should see before going elsewhere.

Postponed.

Owing to the unfavorable weather the boating party of the Young People's Literary Association which was to take place this evening has been postponed till Wednesday evening.

Confirmed Yesterday.

As announced on Saturday, confirmation services were held in St. Andrews Cathedral yesterday morning. Right Rev. Bishop Lemmens officiated, and over 40 were confirmed. They included a much larger proportion of adults than are usually confirmed.

Will Enter a Team.

The James Bay Athletic Club, with their usual enterprise, intend to donate their efforts to make the meeting of the Northwestern Firemen's Association a success. They have chosen an amateur team to compete in one of the contests and the boys will commence practising immediately.

They Have Gone.

Two well-known tonsorial artists, employees of a Government street shop, are missing, having left the city last evening. They had been flying rather high for several weeks, and have left several sorrowing creditors behind, among them a restaurant keeper, livery stablemen and others.

The Danube's Sailing.

The steamer Danube, which was to have started on her cruise north this morning, is still lying at her berth at the foot of Yates street. Whether she will get away late this evening is still uncertain, and depends entirely upon when she gets all her freight on board, of which there is yet quite a quantity to be stowed away.

Real Estate Auction.

A very successful sale was held by Auctioneer George Byrnes at his salesroom this morning, of a ten-acre subdivision on Oak Bay avenue. A large crowd were in attendance, and spirited bidding followed for the 48 lots to be sold. The lots averaged over 60 x 120 feet in size, they all sold at prices that were satisfactory to their owner.

First of the Season.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Gorge Road Methodist church will hold a strawberry festival Wednesday, June 17th. Some of the best local talent of the city have kindly consented to take part, among whom are Messrs. Parfitt Brothers, Mrs. Clyde, Prof. Seward and others. Those wishing a good seat will do well to go early. No doubt the place will be filled to the doors.

Lost His Sister.

U. S. Consul Meyer received a letter this morning from Thomas Moore Smith, of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, making inquiries of his sister, Sarah Ann Smith, who he has not heard of for five years. The letter states that she married a man by the name of Wm. Finsen, who subsequently died, but what became of the widow he does not know, but has reason to believe that she resides in Victoria.

Alleged Scientific Sparring.

The sparring match for points between La Vigne and Waters at Philharmonic Hall on Saturday night was stopped by the police after the first round. Sergeant Levin was present to see that the law was not infringed and finding that both men were totally devoid of science, and the scientific exhibition had resolved itself into a slogging match, in which one of the men migat get injured, he promptly stopped the fight.

Keeps It Busy.

The steamer Premier came out of the Esquimalt dry dock yesterday morning and proceeded to Vancouver. She will go on her old route until the 22nd inst., when she will be transferred to the Tacoma-Whatcom route, the C.P.R. having decided to transfer their freight at the latter place instead of Vancouver. The City of Seattle went into dock as soon as the Premier came out. Her bottom was very dirty which accounts for the slow runs she has been making lately.

An Annual Meeting.

The annual general meeting of the B. C. Board of Trade will be held on the 3rd of July, when the reports for the year and the election of a new council will take place. Any resolutions that are to be brought forward should be handed to the secretary at least ten days in advance, so that he will know what has to be done. All business men are eligible as members, and as the Board is getting more useful, everyone that can should join. After this annual meeting the entrance fee will be raised from $20 to $30.

Dedicated Yesterday.

The new Methodist Church at North Saanich was formally dedicated yesterday morning by Rev. Jos. Hall, through whose exertions the church was built. Rev. Coverdale Watson preached an eloquent sermon complimenting the congregation on their enterprise. The little church which has been described in these columns was filled with members of all denominations. It was handsomely decorated and looked very pretty, flowers even not being spared by those who had the embellishment of it in hand. Special hymns were sung by the choir.

Police Court Grist.

In the police court this morning under the directorship of E. Johnson, S. M., seven cases of minor importance were determined. Three siwashes, R. Liscomb and Philip Chalk pled guilty to being drunk and were fined $5 each. William Cain, charged with selling liquor to Indians also pled guilty but as it was his second or third offence he was sentenced to three months at hard labor. Charles Jarvin who had been caught on the street at 1 a.m. with an axe on his shoulder and refused to give a good account of himself, was charged with vagrancy but was discharged by the court. Two men who were found asleep on the reservation were also charged with vagrancy, but as they had over $100 on them it would not hold and they also were discharged. The case of Richard Kennedy, charged with breaking into the shop of Fred Fields, was remanded until Thursday afternoon.

Is There No Treason in This?

Kootenay Miner: "It has been suggested that the people of Nelson subscribe a sum to be used in properly celebrating the natal days of the two peoples who are engaged in developing and upbuilding the Kootenay Lake country. Canada's natal day is July 1, that of the United States, July 4. A meeting to take action in the matter will be held at the Miner office on Monday evening next at 8:30 o'clock sharp." This is worse than unrestricted reciprocity, and we think the triumirate of loyalists—Earle, Prior, Helmcken—should have C Battery sent down there.

B. C. Rifle Association.

At a meeting of the council of the Provincial Rifle Association, held at the secretary's office to consider the arrangements necessary for the carrying on of the annual prize meeting of the association, it was decided that the shooting should take place on the Goldstream rifle range, on Wednesday, the 20th July next, and the three following days. A committee was appointed to draw up a prize list to be submitted to the council for final decision. The team to represent the province at the annual meeting of the Dominion Rifle Association, at Ottawa, will be chosen from all members of the active militia of the district who attend the Goldstream meeting in July, so that the best shots may be secured, and will be in charge of a popular officer of the B. C. Garrison Artillery.

Discharged and Re-arrested.

The hearing of G. H. Loomis and Alex. Anderson, charged with swindling Christ. Ahlefelt on the Umatilla a few days ago, was continued before E. Johnson, S.M., in the Provincial Police Court this morning. When the case was called J. P. Walls, representing the prosecution, asked that the prisoners be discharged which was granted by the court. This was done because the prosecution found that they were unable to maintain their position, that this court had no jurisdiction over such a case when it took place on the high seas in an American bottom. As soon as they were discharged they were rearrested on a charge of bringing money into Canada that was procured by fraud. The hearing of this new charge was laid over till to-morrow at 10 a.m., and the two men in default of $250 bail were locked up pending the hearing.

DR DAVIE RETURNS.

His Opinion of the Celebrated Koch's Lymph —What it Will Lead To.

Dr. J. C. Davie returned last night via the C.P.R. from an extended trip to Europe. He looks much improved after the trip and received a representative of the TIMES who called on him, courteously. In answer to questions concerning the properties of Koch's lymph, Dr. Davie replied in effect as follows: Those who state that there is no efficacy in the lymph are wrong. The disclosure of Prof. Koch's views and his experiments with the lymph were premature. The lymph has a distinct effect on the tubercular processes. Where the tubercular disease can be seen, there is a very decided improvement of the parts, to such an extent in many cases that a cure seems imminent. After a time, however, these cases will relapse in spite of continued treatment, and become as bad as ever.

In cases of advanced consumption the effect of the lymph is to produce so much reaction (by acting on the extensive tubercular deposit in the lungs) that death may result. In cases of consumption which are apparently in the first stage, the treatment by lymph is also dangerous as the deposit of tubercle on the lungs may be much greater than can be ascertained by physical examination and death may result from the treatment. The reaction seems to be great or mild in proportion to the amount of tubercular deposit in the patient. If the deposit is large in extent reaction may be so great that death ensues. If the deposit be comparatively small, reaction will be moderate and safe. The whole question of the utility of Koch treatment is still sub judice. Those who know the most about it state that no definite conclusions can be be reached for a year.

Most medical men are agreed that the discovery is a broad sign post indicating the lines upon which a large class of diseases over which treatment hitherto has had little or no power, are to be met and modified and made safe to the human being if not cured as smallpox by vaccination.

Dr. Davie purchased a large stock of surgical instruments for the Jubilee Hospital while in Europe, obtaining them chiefly in Berlin, where they are made in such a manner as to be adapted to recent surgical methods (antiseptre). He also on his return while in New York inspected some ambulances, one can probably be built here from the information in the doctor's possession.

The doctor spent his time while absent from the Province chiefly in London and Berlin, where he met and witnessed the operations of many of the best known men of the day.

WHERE ARE THE FISHERMEN?

A Boat Found Stem Down Off Magazine Island Yesterday.

A party of young men who visited Esquimalt early yesterday morning noticed a small sloop, stem down off Magazine Island. A boatman went out hitched a rope to it, and after a lot of trouble got it ashore. It was then found that there was a large hole stove in the bow, and the sails missing. The boat's number is 44, and at the custom house that number is registered opposite the sloop Annie, Jas. Mannelo, owner.

The boatman, who has the sloop, has endeavored in every way to find an owner, but without avail, and it is feared that the owners have met with an accident. Enquiry among the fishermen around the harbor does not throw any more light on the matter, no one seeming to know of any such boat or man. It is supposed therefore that the sloop belongs to some one on the islands. The only thing in the boat was a man's coat.

THEY INTEND TO BUILD.

The Board of Trade Take Steps to Put Up a Block.

After the council of the Board of Trade had finished the business in connection with the Nelson and Fort Sheppard Railway, they took the building question under consideration. The President, Mr. R. Ward, reported that he had purchased lot No. 11, block 77, of the H. B. Co.'s property on Bastion street, with the understanding that he could buy the adjoining lot for building purposes at the same price, if the company in England sanctioned the sale. The sanction had come and therefore he offered the Board the lot he had bought for what he paid for it.

The Board showed its approval of the scheme for putting up a building by passing the following resolution: "That the Board approves of the purchase and agrees to purchase the adjoining lot for the same price, viz.: $1100, and further the Board will build."

The Board then elected Messrs. R. Ward, M. T. Johnston, R. P. Rithet and T. B. Hall a committee to obtain information and designs for the new building to be submitted to the board.

A letter from Mr. Tiark, re plans for the new building, was referred to the committee.

It is likely that the board will invite the architects of the city to compete with plans which will ensure a handsome and substantial block.

THE BOARD OF TRADE.

Approve of the Construction of the Nelson & Fort Sheppard Railway.

A specially convened meeting of the council of the Board of Trade was held this morning to consider the following resolutions:

NELSON, B.C., May 29, 1891.

Secretary Board of Trade, Victoria.

SIR—The following resolutions were passed at a public meeting, held at Nelson on the evening of the 28th inst.:

Whereas, it is currently reported that interested parties are exerting their influence with the Dominion Government to procure the disallowance of the "Nelson & Fort Sheppard Railway Act, 1891;" and

Whereas, the southern portion of Kootenay District—one of the most promising mineral regions in the entire Dominion—is retarded in its development by lack of a transportation route that can be operated during the winter as well as during the summer; and

Whereas, for want of all-the-year transportation facilities the owners of our mines are compelled not only to pay exorbitant, if not prohibitive, freight rates on the output of their mines, but are unable to get their output to a market for six months in the year; and

Whereas, the Canadian Pacific Railway Company is either unable to discover a practicable route for a railway from the Kootenay Lake Country to its main line, or unwilling to build a railway if a route has been found; and

Whereas, the people of the western portion of the Province have been allowed to construct railways that give them competitive transportation facilities, as well as connection with the railway systems of the United States, as have also the people of Alberta, Manitoba, Ontario, Quebec, and the maritime provinces; and

Whereas, the bill chartering the Nelson & Fort Sheppard Railway Company was passed by a vote of 23 yeas to 4 nays, notwithstanding the active opposition of the Canadian Pacific Company, who appeared by counsel before the railway committee of the assembly; therefore, be it

Resolved, that the people of southern Kootenay earnestly protest against the disallowance of the "Nelson & Fort Sheppard Railway Act, 1891," by the Dominion Government, deeming such action, if it occurs, to be not only an injustice to the people of the district and an interference with provincial rights, but a monstrously unfair proposition to make an entire section of country a preserve for the benefit of a single railway corporation; and further,

Resolved, that we assert the right of the people of the district to construct railways in any direction which their interests may require, and that we declare our fixed determination to maintain such right at any and all cost; and further

Resolved, that the Provincial Government be requested to make an earnest protest against any such disallowance, and to make the most strenuous efforts to urge upon the Dominion Government the great injustice and the bad financial policy of such action; and further,

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to Hon. John Robson, premier of the Province, and a copy also sent to Mr. Mara, our member in the Dominion House of Commons, with the request that he use his influence against the disallowance of the act and lay these resolutions before Sir John A. Macdonald, Premier of Canada and minister of railways and canals.

As the question is one that concerns the business interests of Victoria (for if the Nelson and Fort Sheppard railay is built your city will have direct as well as a competition freight route by which to ship merchandise and mine machinery to the towns and mines on Kootenay Lake, it is to be hoped that the body of which you are secretary will take favorable action in the matter and use its influence with Mr. Earle and Col. Prior, members of the House of Commons at Ottawa.

Yours truly,
JOHN HOUSTON,
Secretary of Meeting.

After a short discussion the following resolution was passed.

"Resolved, That after consideration of the communication from Mr. John Houston, secretary of the public meeting, held at Nelson on 28th May, and inasmuch as the Legislature of this Province after a full discussion of the matters involved, by an almost unanimous vote (19 to 4) approved of the construction of the "Nelson & Fort Sheppard Railway," this Board approves of the construction of said railway, and instructs its secretary to write to Messrs. Earle and Prior and ask them to use their best endeavors to secure the passage by the Dominion Government of the necessary legislation required to ensure the building of said railway; and that a copy of this resolution be sent to Mr. Houston."

Canvass to Go.

Acting Rear Admiral Walker, (U.S.) who, in the commencement of the reconstruction of the navy, was an earnest advocate of a moderate spread of canvass as an auxilliary to steam for new war cruisers, has had his views changed by the experience with the Chicago. He is of the opinion, and Chief Constructor Wilson now agrees with him, that sail power on twin-screw vessels is simply a useless incumbrance. The only twin screw vessels of the new navy with square rigging are the Chicago and the Newark, and it will probably not be long before all their rigging comes down except the low masts with the military tops and a simple fore and aft rig. The new English cruiser Latona, which in the hands of the contractor made 20.5 knots with forced and 19 natural draft, dropped to 17 natural draft on her recent trip to Walton, though she could probably have done somewhat better. Apropos to this the United Service Gazette says: "There is nothing to be gained by exaggerating the steaming qualities of our ships of war after the Yankee fashion, and if the natural draft speed of the Latona and her class is 17 knots, this had better be clearly understood. It is not a bad speed by any means, but it is nothing to brag about in these days of 20 knot torpedo boats."

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT.

To the Citizens of Nanaimo, Vancouver and New Westminster.

Prof. F. D. Seward the eminent scientific optician, of New York, will close his office in Victoria next week, and will stop for a short time at Nanaimo, Vancouver and New Westminster.

During his sixteen weeks stay in Victoria, Prof. Seward has accomplished a work never before equalled in the Dominion of Canada, not only in adjusting eye-glasses and spectacles to ordinary eyesight, but in fitting artificial eyes, cataract glasses and making of special lenses for double vision, astigmatism, and other defects that could never before be benefitted by any optician in the Dominion at any price. as an expert optician, Prof. Seward has no equal in Canada, and no superior in the United States, therefore the opportunity now being afforded the citizens of the Dominion should be taken advantage of by every one needing artificial aid to the eyesight.

Nanaimo office will be at the Windsor Hotel.

Office hours while in Victoria, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., corner Yates and Douglas streets, over drug store.

TRIBUTES TO SIR JOHN.

SPEECHES IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS ON TUESDAY.

The Eloquent Words of the Leader of the Opposition—The Old Leader 's Dead But Canada Shall and Will Live—Mr. Davin's Remarks.

OTTAWA, June, 9.—When the House assembled to-day, the Speaker informed the members of the death of Sir John A. Macdonald.

Sir Hector Langevin read a brief eulogy of the deceased leader, closing with a motion that in the opinion of this House, the mortal remains of the Right Hon. Sir John A. Macdonald, G. C. B., should be publicly interred, and that this House will concur in giving to the ceremony a fitting degree of solemnity and importance.

MR. LAURIER'S ELOQUENT TRIBUTE.

Mr. Laurier—Mr. Speaker, I fully appreciate the motion which the hon. gentleman has just presented to the House, and will all concur that this silence under the circumstances is far more eloquent than any human language can be. I fully appreciate the intensity of the grief which fills the souls of all those who were friends and followers of Sir John Macdonald at the loss of the great leader whose whole life has been so closely identified with their party, a party upon which he has thrown such brilliance and lustre. We on this side of the House, who are his opponents, who did not believe in his policy or motives of government—we take a full share of their grief, for the loss which they depiore to-day is far and away beyond and above the ordinary compass of party strife. It is in every respect a great national loss, for he is no more who was in many respects Canada's most illustrious son, and was in every sense Canada's foremost citizen and statesman. At the period of life to which Sir John Macdonald had arrived death, when it comes, comes not unexpectedly. Some months ago, during the turmoil of the late election when the country was made aware that on a certain day the physical strength of the veteran premier had not been equal to his courage, and that his intense labor for the time being had prostrated his singularly wiry frame, everybody, with the exception perhaps of his buoyant self, was painfully anxious less perhaps the angel of death had touched him with his wings. When a few days ago in the midst of an angry discussion in this parliament the news spread in this House that suddenly his condition had become alarming, the surging wave of angry discussion was hushed at once and every friend or foe realized that this time for a certainty the angel of death had appeared and had crossed the threshold of his home. Thus we were not taken by surprise; and although we were prepared for the sad event, yet it is almost impossible to convince the unwilling mind that it is true that Sir John Macdonald is no more, that the chair we now see vacant shall remain forever vacant, and that the face so familiar in this parliament for the last forty years shall be seen no more, and that the voice well known shall be heard no more whether in solemn debate or in pleasant and mirthful tone. In fact the place of Sir John Macdonald in this country was so large and so absolute that it is almost impossible to conceive how the politics of this country, the fate of this country, will continue without him. His loss is overwhelming. For my part I will say with those here his loss overwhelms me, and it also overwhelms those in Parliament as if indeed one of the institutions of the land had given away. Sir John Macdonald belongs to the ages, and it can be said with certainty that the career which has just been closed is one of the remarkable careers of this century. It would be premature at this time to attempt to divine or anticipate what will be the final judgment of history upon him, but there were in his career and in his life features so prominent and conspicuous that already they shine with a glory which time cannot alter. These characteristics appear before the House at the present time such as they will appear to the end in history. I think it can be asserted that for the supreme act of governing men, Sir John Macdonald was gifted as few men in any land or age are gifted—gifted with the highest qualities which would have shone in any theatre and which have shone all the more conspicuous in the large theatre where they were displayed. The fact that he could congregate together elements the most heterogenous, and join them into one compact party and to the end of his life keep them steadily under his hand is perhaps altogether unprecedented. The fact that during all these years he maintained unimpaired, not only the confidence but the devotion and affection of his party is evidence that beside these higher qualities of statesmanship to which we were the daily witnesses, he was also endowed with this inner subtle undefinable characteristics of soul which win and keep the hearts of men. As to his statesmanship it is written in the history of Canada. It may be said without any exaggeration whatever that the life of Sir Joan Macdonald, from the date he entered Parliament, is the history of Canada, for he was connected with and assisted in all the events, all the developments which brought Canada from the position she occupied, the position of two small provinces having nothing in common but their own allegiance and united by a bond of paper, and by nothing else, to the present state of development which Canada has reached. Although my political views compel me to say that in my judgment his actions were not always the best that could have been taken in the interest of Canada, although my conscience compels me to say that he has imputed to his opponents motives which I must say in my heart he has misconceived, yet I am only too glad here to sink these differences and to remember only the great services he has performed for his country, to remember that his actions displayed unbounded fertility of resource, a high level of intellect, and above all, a far reaching vision beyond the events of the day, and still higher, permeating the whole with a broad patriotism and a devotion to Canada's glory. The life of a statesman is always an arduous one, and very often it is an ungrateful one. More often than otherwise his actions do not mature until he is in his grave. Not so, however, in the case of Sir John Macdonald. His career has been a singularly fortunate one. His reverses were few and of short duration. He was fond of power, and in my judgment if I may say so, that was the turning point of his history. He was fond of power, and he never made any secret of it. Many times we have heard him avow it on the floor of this parliament, and his ambition in this respect was gratified as perhaps no other man's ambition ever was. In my judgment, even the career of William Pitt can hardly compare with that of Sir John Macdonald in this respect; for although William Pitt, moving in a higher sphere, had to deal with problems greater than ours, yet I doubt if in the management of a party William Pitt had to contend with difficulties equal to those that Sir John Macdonald had to contend with. In his death, too, he seems to have been singularly happy. Twenty years ago I was told by one who was at that time the close personal and political friend of Sir John Macdonald that in the intimacy of his domestic circle he was fond of repeating that he hoped his end would be as the end of Lord Chatham, that he would be carried away from the floor of parliament to die. How true this vision into the future was we know now; for we see him at the last with enfeebled steps and declining strength struggling on the floor of parliament until with the hand of fate upon him he was carried to his home to die; and there to die with his armor on was probably his ambition. Sir, death is the supreme law. Although we see it every day and in every form; although session after session we have seen it in this parliament striking right and left, without any discrimination as to age or station, yet the ever-recurring spectacle does not in any way remove the bitterness of the sting. Death always carries with it an incredible sense of pain, but the one thing sad in death is that which is involved in the word "Separation," separation from all we love in life. This is what makes death so poignant when it strikes a man of intellect in middle life. But when death is the natural termination of a full life, when he who has disappeared has given the full measure of his capacity, has performed everything required from him, and more, the sadness of death is not for him who goes, but for those who love him and remain. In this sense I am sure the Canadian people will extend unbounded sympathy to the friends of Sir John Macdonald, to his sorrowing children and above all to the brave and noble woman, his companion in life, and his chief helpmate. Thus, Mr. Speaker, one after another we see those who have been instrumental in bringing Canada to its present state of development removed from among us. To-day we deplore the loss of a man who all unite in saying was the foremost Canadian of his time, and who filled the large place in Canadian history. Only last week was buried in the city of Montreal another son of Canada, one who had been at one time a tower of strength to the Liberal party, one who will ever be remembered as one of the noblest, purest and greatest characters that Canada has ever produced. Sir Antoine Aime Dorion was not in favor of confederation, not that he was opposed to the principle, but he believed the union of these provinces at that day was premature. When, however, confederation had become a fact he gave the best of his mind and heart to make it a success. It may, indeed, happen, sir, when the Canadian people see the ranks thus gradually reduced and thinned of those upon whom they have been in the habit of relying for guidance, that a feeling of apprehension will creep into the heart lest, perhaps, the institutions of Canada may be imperiled. Before the grave of him who above all was the father of Confederation let no grief be barren grief, but let grief be coupled with the resolution, the determination that the cause in which Liberals and Conservatives, in which Brown and Macdonald united, shall not perish; but that though United Canada may be deprived of the services of her greatest man, yet still Canada shall and will live. I agree to the motion.

MR. DAVIN SPEAKS.

Mr. Davin—I think, sir, it would be unbecoming, if I may venture to say so, that I should remain silent on this occasion, and that no expression should be given of the way the Northwest feels at this supreme hour. For myself it would be hard not to express a sense of grief at such a time as this because it so happens that for some years I was brought closely in contact with him whom we mourn at this time and I was able to see into those features of his character which were probably of more value to the world than the great abilities which struck the superficial observer. Mr. Speaker, the man whom we mourn today was emphatically a great man. When I came to Canada first, his friends misdoubting that they might have formed a provincial conception of Sir John Macdonald use to come to me and ask, How would he compare with the great men of England? I said he could stand up to the greatest of them, and when I knew him intimately and was brought closely in contact with him I became more and more convinced that from doubting whether he could stand up to the greatest of them, few of them had the varied qualities, the extraordinary varied and complex qualities, that are necessary to make up a politician such as was Sir John. Ranging over the field of history and recalling the names of the men who have reached these heights which it takes a lifetime to climb, it is hardly possible to find one who possessed the varied qualities of the great man who the other day was leading in this House. You may find great power of intellect, great powers of statesmanship, far-reaching views, great powers of oratory, but where will you find conjointed with all these, that politeness that never fails, that delicate consideration for the feelings of others, that exquisite urbanity which distinguished Sir John? Sir, the measure of his ability is the difficulties that he overcame. I remember, when I first visited these buildings, some twenty years ago, a gentleman then occupying one of the highest positions in the government said, to my surprise, when I admired the buildings, "But what an expense! what a waste of money!" Now we find they are hardly equal to their needs. The fact is, these very buildings emphasize the imperial cast of mind of the great man who is gone. I remember the first time I had a conversation with him, some seventeen or eighteen years ago. He drew a sketch of the British possessions confederated together, and then in his own emphatic way he said, "That is the way I should like to lead." In truth he was not only a Canadian, but an Imperial statesman; the brightest gem in the crown was polished and set by his hand. I have read somewhere of a child who planted a tree, which ultimately sheltered his old age, and with the dews of evening watered his grave. Sir John Macdonald was in that position; because he found Canada a petty province, and now he leaves it something like an empire. At this moment a nation, more important than the nation over which Elizabeth ruled, mourns the loss of a statesman who helped to build it up. As I have said it does seem to me that the qualities which were most extraordinary in that remarkable man were the kindness of heart, the alchemistical power which transmitted all that came near him into good, which made every foe that came within its influence a friend or devotee. He had that power, which belongs only to the highest genius, of making men who never saw him feel the extraordinary charm of his personality. We may build statues to him in these grounds; monuments will arise to him in Kingston, but the real grandest monument to Sir John A. Macdonald will be the love that Canada feels it her privileges to choose for her great personalty. But even should we never erect a statue to his memory humanity will keep his memory green. For he belonged to that rare group of men who enchain the memory of mankind. Sir, language was applied to a great countryman of his, a great Scotchman, not a statesman, but belonging to an order of activity which might well be applied to the great statesman we mourn:

TRIBUTES TO SIR JOHN.

Dead heroes in marble from memory fade,
But while hearts shall weep where your ashes are laid,
And earth's proudest priesthood like phantoms pass by;
But thou art of the priesthood that never can die.

The adjournment was agreed to.

The Purest and Best

Articles known to medical science are used in preparing Hood's Sarsaparilla. Every ingredient is carefully selected, personally examined, and only the best retained. The medicine is prepared under the supervision of thoroughly competent pharmacists, and every step in the process of manufacture is carefully watched with a view to securing in Hood's Sarsaparilla the best possible result.

Mothers

Castoria is recommended by physicians for children teething. It is a purely vegetable preparation, its ingredients are published around each bottle. It is pleasant to the taste and absolutely harmless. It relieves constipation, regulates the bowels, quiets pain, cures diarrhœa and wind colic, allays feverishness, destroys worms, and prevents convulsions, soothes the child and gives it refreshing and natural sleep. Castoria is the children's panacea—the mothers' friend. 35 doses, 35 cents.

Nature requires aid in correcting irregularities at this season, and for both men and women no other remedy equals Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a spring blood tonic. They supply all the constituents necessary to enrich the blood and build up the system. Sold by all dealers, or sent post paid on receipt of price—50c. per box, or five bottles for $2—by addressing Dr. Williams Med. Col., Brockvill Ont.

Makes the Weak Strong

The marked benefit which people in run down or weakened state of health derive from Hood's Sarsaparilla, conclusively proves the claim that this medicine "makes the weak strong." It does not act like a stimulant, imparting fictitious strength from which there must follow a reaction of greater weakness than before, but in the most natural way Hood's Sarsaparilla overcomes creates an appetite, purifies the blood, and, in short, gives great bodily, nerve, mental and digestive strength.

"I derived very much benefit from Hood's Sarsaparilla, which I took for general debility. It built me right up, and gave me an excellent appetite." ED. JENKINS, Mt. Savage, Md.

Fagged Out

"Last spring I was completely fagged out. My strength left me and I felt sick and miserable all the time, so that I could hardly attend to my business. I took one bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it cured me. There is nothing like it." R. C. BEGOLE, Editor Enterprise, Belleville, Mich.

Worn Out

"Hood's Sarsaparilla restored me to good health. Indeed, I might say truthfully it saved my life. To one feeling tired and worn out I would earnestly recommend a trial of Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. PHEBE MOSHER, 90 Brooks Street, East Boston, Mass.

COAL

The New Vancouver Coal Mining & Land Co., L'd.

(FORMERLY THE VANCOUVER COAL CO.),

ARE THE LARGEST COAL PRODUCERS ON THE PACIFIC COAST.

THE NANAIMO COAL

(Used principally for Gas and Domestic Purposes).

THE SOUTH FIELD COAL

(Steam Fuel).

THE NEW WELLINGTON COAL

(House and Steam Coal) are mined by this Company only.

THE "NANAIMO" COAL gives a large percentage of Gas, a high Illuminating Power, unequalled by any other Bituminous Gas Coal the world, and a superior quality of Coke.

THE "SOUTH FIELD" COAL is now used by all the Leading Steamship Lines o the Pacific.

THE "NEW WELLINGTON" COAL, which was introduced early in the present year, has already become a favorite fuel for domestic purposes. It is a clean, hard coal, makes a bright and cheerful fire, and its lasting qualities make it the most economical fuel in the market.

The several Mines of the Company are connected with their Wharves at Nanaimo and Departure Bay, where ships of the largest tonnage are loaded at all states of the tide. Special dispatch is given to Mail and Ocean steamers.
